

Dear Sir,

I must apologize for earlier comments made regarding Calvary Chapel Church of Costa Mesa, California.

I accused this church organization of disguising itself as a local organization that being Hope Church of Marlton. Though Hope Church is a Calvary Chapel Church, its latest actions may be independent of the main affiliate. I have no concrete evidence to substantiate my claims.

My only contention is simply, that some of the translators of Hope Church of Marlton if approved, would seriously hurt our coverage.

I would like to close (this is my last letter I promise!) by stating that the FCC is a fine organization. Without the help of the employees of the FCC, we would never have been able to get on the air.

Often, I had to seek out the wisdom of people like Tung Bui, John Grizzle, Conrad Hurling, Alan S., Jim Bradshaw and others. Indeed, there were times when I thought about giving up, but they also managed to help me through.

I can't think of any organization that has ever, in my entire life, been as kind, helpful, and a pleasure to work with than the FCC! I sincerely mean that.
